Offer in on Woolworths

THE voluntary effort to smarten up one of Seaton's town centre eyesores has already encouraged future use of the former Woolworths building in Marine Place.

Town councillor Sharon Bruce, one of the driving forces behind moves to smarten up the town centre, has paid tribute to the residents who turned out to give the frontage of Woolworths a makeover.

And she has revealed that local estate agents Richardson Gill, who are actively marketing the site, have already had viewings at the three-storey building and one offer which has been referred to the London agents.

In a statement to Pulman's View From, Councillor Bruce said: "Firstly, my thanks to John and Rita Buckley, two of our local heroes who have emailed and communicated constantly with business owners in Seaton to encourage them to improve their shop frontages.

"Many of the prominent buildings have been cared for in the past few years because of their dogged persistence and care. We enjoyed Wednesday together scraping and cleaning and painting and good friendships.

"My thanks also go to EDDC for their generous and prompt help and support with power-washing the building and providing us with hi-vis jackets and safety cones and tape.

Appreciated

"We very much appreciated this support and whilst we have one or two other Seaton projects in mind, we promise not to ask you to clean up all the shop fronts.

"Indeed, it is not necessary, as for those who walk around Seaton regularly, will notice more than 50 per cent of businesses regularly caring for their own shop fronts.

"My thanks also to the team of residents who came along on Wednesday to help and for countless others who donated cash, bought coffees and gave encouragement and thanks.

"My thanks to Councillor Peter Burrows for his help with cleaning and painting, and bringing down fantastic information boards from the TIC to display. They look superb.

"My thanks to Chris, Marie and Craig as I have been in and out of the office several times this week for equipment and keys and . . . you are brilliant.

"Thank you also to all who have and are helping with displays for the windows.

"People are constantly looking at the information boards which will create increased footfall for events and activities being hosted by the community groups in the town.

"Special thanks go to local agents, Richardson Gill, who have been proactive in grabbing this opportunity and running with it. They are actively marketing the site and have had viewings and an offer already, which has been referred to the London agent.

"In case I have forgotten anyone, as it has been a huge project, thank you everyone.

"This project is one of the most important for this town. Our work to help improve things for the short term, will create unlimited possibilities for the long-term.

"Seaton is a stunning seaside town. As residents and business owners and councillors for Seaton, district and county, it is the responsibility of each and every one of us to give our energies and commitment; to be proud and protect all that we have and provide opportunities for all for the future."

AXMINSTER Councillors clash over cost of doors

AXMINSTER councillors have clashed over spending nearly £5,000 on the cost of a new door at the former cemetery chapel when they refused to do likewise at the Guildhall, one of the town's most important buildings.

The clash came at a meeting of the Building and Finance Committee earlier in the summer, the minutes of which were approved at last week's full council meeting.

Town mayor Jeremy Walden reported that three quotations had been received for the purchase and fixing of an additional door at the chapel, which is now used as a store.

Councillor Paul Hayward stated that he felt the expenditure of £4,680 was "outrageous", particularly in the light of the fact that councillors had not been prepared to spend a similar sum two years ago to renew the Guildhall doors which were bigger and on a more prestigious building.

Councillor Sue Spiller responded that the decision had been made in the context of scores of people having been made redundant by Axminster Carpets and the very future of that business, one of the town's major employers, hanging in the balance and redundant workers relying on foodbanks to feed their families.

In the end, the cost of the recently fitted new doors was paid for by a donation from the Axminster Care Service, a registered charity.

Councillor Walden thought the expenditure being proposed on the cemetery chapel as "an investment in the future". The proposed location was central and accessible in nearly all weather conditions and the historic nature of the building was "deserving of respect".

All councillors present at the committee meeting, with the exception of Councillor Hayward, voted in favour of accepting the tender for £4,680.

Town clerk Hilary Kirkcaldie stated that as this was not a budgeted expenditure in the present financial year, the money would have to be taken from reserves. This was approved with Councillor Hayward voting against.

From the editor's chair Who dares gets battered!

I'VE always looked upon Colyton and Colyford as one community - and indeed it is. I've always been aware, of course, that Colyford is an ancient borough but the village and town have always been run by Colyton Parish Council on which Colyford has representation, currently four out of 13 councillors, although this is not a statutory right.

There has been murmurs for a long time, however, from Colyford that the village does not get a fair deal, which has encouraged the current Mayor of Colyford, Howard West to "bravely" raise the issue at a recent council meeting.

I say "bravely" because it takes a bit of guts to go against the grain at Colyton Parish Council meetings. They are, as demonstrated frequently in recent years, a close-knit group who close ranks whenever anyone dares to challenge their modus operandi.

This newspaper is the only one that takes any interest in Colyton Parish Council by sending a reporter to every meeting. Indeed, we have done that for many years.

From time to time, however, we have upset councillors by reporting on matters that they would prefer not to be publicised, despite such matters being discussed in open council, the inference being that we should only report on the positives and never the negatives. That view, of course, is contrary to the basic principles of democracy and we have resisted any attempt to stop us doing our job responsibly.

We really upset the council recently when we had the audacity to record their deliberations at a particularly controversial meeting, to ensure we got it exactly right. To do so was contrary to the council's standing orders (rules). We had never been sent a copy of those standing orders and they are not listed on the council's website, at the library, on the council notice board or any other public place.

The council threatened to report us to the Press Complaints Commission for contravening their rules but common sense prevailed and if we want to record meetings in the future we have to seek permission which, from time to time, we will do.

The parish council defended its commitment to Colyford at its last meeting and Howard West took a bit of a battering over his claims about the village not getting its fair share.

But it was his democratic right to raise the matter and he should not be unnecessarily castigated because he did not tow the party line.

HONITON Town 'up for sale' says the Mayor

HONITON is being "put up for sale" by district councillors in order to fund their costly relocation project, the town's mayor has claimed.

Councillor Peter Halse, who became first citizen in May and also represents the town on the district council, said decisions were being made that were not in the interests of Honiton residents.

Land at the Heathpark estate had been identified as a possible location for East Devon District Council's new office complex.

But in a controversial move earlier this year, councillors opted to reject the Honiton site and build new headquarters at SkyPark, on the outskirts of the district.

The land now looks likely to be sold for the development of a new supermarket.

And in a further blow to the local economy, the district's business hub - currently based at Heathpark - has also been lined up for closure.

At a town council meeting last week, former mayor Councillor Vernon Whitlock raised the issue of businesses being forced to relocate.

And Councillor Halse admitted that he shared the concerns of businesses, councillors and residents, who feel the town is being stripped of its assets.

"I am at loggerheads with the (district) council on the way this has been done. I am disappointed that they will be demolishing a building that is of great use to the town and is not costing anything.

"Initially they told us another facility would be provided, but it turns out they were thinking the private sector could replace it.

"The fact of the matter is that Honiton is being put up for sale and its assets are being razed in order for the district council to move to the outskirts of Exeter."

SIDMOUTH Delay on coastal protection plan

A MAJOR project to improve coastal defences along the Sidmouth seafront is facing further delays, after environmental experts announced key research would take longer than first thought.

Teams of researchers have been digging through the archives to gather relevant information about the history of the town's coastal defences.

And members of the steering group leading East Devon District Council's beach management project had hoped that critical data would be available by September.

But unearthing the facts has taken much longer than expected, and experts have had to trawl through two decades worth of archive material in order to track down the vital information.

As a result, the steering group has now been told that initial reports, which could help to shape the future development of the project, will not be available until February next year.

EDDC's deputy leader Councillor Andrew Moulding, who chairs the steering group, said being thorough in the early stages of the project would pay off further down the line.

He said: "Any delay is of course unfortunate, but we have to look at a project like this in the round."

COLYTON/COLYFORD 'Driving a wedge' in fair deal plea

THE Mayor of Colyford has been told he could "drive a wedge" between the village and neighbouring town Colyton, after complaining that residents do not get a fair deal from the parish council.

Mayor Howard West, who also sits on Colyton Parish Council, last month complained that residents of Colyford did not get anything from the £12,331 in council tax precept they paid, the equivalent of 28 per cent of the whole parish, describing the village as the "poor relation" of the parish.

He listed a number of grievances, including that all sports and recreation facilities were built in Colyton, despite some being funded by Section 106 money from local developments in Colyford; the parish council gave no support to Colyford with regards to the proposed Stop Line Way cycle route; the village received little assistance from the parish's handyman John Rollings; and the village had no dog bins despite requests for them.

Councillor Caroline Collier argued against each of his complaints, in particular his comments against handyman Mr Rollings, saying he was always available to carry out work in Colyford and had been "quite upset" by Councillor West's claims. She was later backed by council chairman Andrew Parr, who said it was "disappointing" and "ill-advised" that Councillor West raised complaints about Mr Rollings at a public meeting.

Councillor West replied: "It's not his fault, it's the parish council's fault."

Councillor Collier also argued that Colyford residents had asked to take on responsibility for their own public garden areas, and that the Burgesses of Colyford had requested to work on their own route for the Stop Line Way, which the parish council had allowed. She added that council meetings were for the benefit of both Colyton and Colyford and members often discussed matters in both communities.

With regards to a complaint over the continuing problems caused by buses picking up from Colyton Grammar School in Colyford, Councillor Collier said this was something the council had been working on for years, before Councillor West even joined the council.

She backed Councillor Rodney Turner's previous argument that sports and recreation facilities in Colyton were for the use of everyone in the parish and, with regards to dog bins, said she thought the installation of bins could be arranged if locations were suggested.

"If you're not careful, you are going to drive a wedge between the two settlements. We want to have a good relationship between both communities," she concluded.

Councillor West argued that he had never said he wanted to split from the town but people had assumed this.

"I have just asked what Colyton Parish Council can do for Colyford in the future. From what Councillor Collier said, we might get one dog bin and that's all!

"I'm sorry, but Colyford pays 28 per cent of the precept and not a single penny is being spent in the village. It's got to change."

Lions back hat trick of good causes

SEATON & District Lions Club recently received a request for help from 18-year-old Abbie Dowse to spend eight months in India as a volunteer helper with Project Trust.

Abbie, who has been studying 'A' Levels at Axe Valley Community College, is due to depart for India in January of next year to work with children on one of the educational trust's projects. She needs to raise £4,870 towards funding her trip.

To help her reach her target, Seaton & District Lions Club donated £500 towards her volunteer helper fund.

THE MD105 Disaster Fund was set up in 2007/2008 to respond to disasters that had happened in Great Britain and Ireland.

Since then the disaster fund has contributed over £50,000 of aid – the latest donation being £11,000 to the South West Lions Clubs' appeal towards the Somerset Flood Relief Appeal, which ended up at over £40,000.

Seaton Lions donated £350 to the Lions International Blood Research Appeal, LIBRA, last week. The Lions International Blood Research Appeal's sole purpose is to fundraise for the Haematology Department at King's College Hospital in London. Since they were founded in 1976, they have provided the hospital with vital funds to cover the cost of laboratory space and new state-of-the-art equipment. The donation was from the proceeds of two clocks and an old book auctioned off by Seaton Lion Dave Rickard, a determined supporter of LIBRA. Over the past ten years, Seaton & District Lions Club have donated more than £1,600 to LIBRA. Pictured above are Trevor Probert, Fred Paulley, Lions president Kevin Frost, Jerry Parkhouse, Rosemary Partridge-Hogbin, Clive Millman, Pauline Mitchell and George Mabon

Government's scheme puts 143 East Devon households on property ladder

THE Help to Buy scheme launched by the government has assisted 143 households get a foot on the property ladder in East Devon.

This is in stark contrast to Mid Devon and North Devon, where there have been just 42 and 11 sales respectively.

The government has issued its first set of regional statistics for sales between April 1st and June 30th, revealing that 80 per cent of Help to Buy sales have gone to first-time buyers.

The controversial scheme has fuelled concern of house price inflation across the country, but Steve Russell, managing director of Devonshire Homes (pictured right), believes the scheme has encouraged developers to create desperately needed new homes in the South West.

He said: "In this region most first time buyers have been unable to buy a new home because of the difficulty of raising a deposit. Help to Buy has enabled them to buy a new home by putting just 5 per cent of the sale price down.

"We have seen negligible effect on new build house prices, and even nationally new build inflation was recently reported to be just 2 per cent.

"Help to Buy has certainly encouraged us to build more new homes, but the region is far from meeting its targets. While more than 60,000 homes have been built in the South West in the last four years, developers must complete more than 96,000 just to meet the estimated annual demand."

Devonshire Homes is building 69 new homes at Amberside in Axminster and all of their open market homes are available on the Help to Buy scheme.

Churches to host WWI commemoration

A MAJOR commemoration of the First World War is being staged in East Devon churches in early October.

A moving programme of poetry, sketches and songs, lightened by some illustrations of the irrepressible humour of the Tommies, will be given on Friday, October 3rd at Shute Church and Saturday, October 4th at Stockland Church, both at 7.30pm.

The show has been compiled by Elisabeth Miller, well-known in the area for her highly successful productions for Shute Theatre and Arts Guild and The Exeter Cathedral Players, who also directs this presentation.

Tickets are £5, available from Hurford Stores in Kilmington, Archway Bookshop in Axminster and contacts in several of the villages involved in the production, from early September.

Profits will go to The Woodland Trust Appeal "We Will Stand For Those Who Fell".

Pre-school shortlisted for Lloyds funding

STAFF and children at Stockland and Yarcombe Pre-School are celebrating being shortlisted in a national competition for community funding.

The awards are run by Lloyds Bank's Community Fund and offer the group which wins the most votes by Lloyd's customers a top prize of £3,000.

The pre-school is now asking for the support of local residents to vote to support them.

Valerie Conlon, vice-chairman of the pre-school, said: "We are delighted to have got this far in the awards, especially as we know how high the standards have been this year.

"We would use this hugely valuable funding to give our pre-school room a much-needed refurbishment since it was last updated over 10 years ago. The work needed is extensive and includes re-flooring, painting and installation of a new kitchenette area.

"The early years funding we receive barely covers our outgoings, so without other sources of funds our pre-school would be forced to close.

"An award of £3,000 would make a huge difference to us, meaning we could renew facilities which, although serviceable, are tired.

"The direct benefit would be to the children but also, indirectly, parents and the wider community. Keeping pre-schools like ours in local communities is vital to ensure quality of life in rural areas such as ours."

Voting opens on September 2nd and closes on October 10th 2014. People can vote for the pre-school in participating branches of Lloyds or online at <http://bit.ly/1AqZdJB>

Delighted

Headteacher Martin Smith commented: “Congratulations to all our students on these excellent results. We are delighted with their success, which reflect the tremendous hard work they have invested in studying over the last two years.

“We are particularly pleased that all students with university offers have been accepted onto their chosen courses.

“Good luck all leavers for the future.

“Lastly, an enormous thank you to the teachers and staff for their hard work in enabling students to achieve these results.”

Ashley wins four awards

ENTRIES in the annual show staged by Axminster Allotment Association's annual show held at Axminster Guildhall were up on the previous year.

There were 180 entries in the vegetable, flowers, floral arranging, home baking and children's classes with the judges impressed by the overall standard.

It was a successful afternoon for young gardener Ashley Ball, who took four of the top awards.

Principal winners were: Most Points in Show – Ashley Ball and Les Wraight; Bill Ball Cup for Best Collection of Vegetables – Ashley Ball; Best Exhibit in Show – Ashley Ball; Nigel Ball Horticulture Cup for Best Potato Exhibit – Ashley Ball; Best Floral Arrangement – Lisa and Shirley; Stan Sheppard Cup for Best Runner Bean Exhibit – Les Wraight; Most Points in Home Baking Classes – Les Wraight; Best Allotment on Axminster sites: Lisa and Shirley.

YEAR 5 children at Axminster Primary School finished off the term by creating paintings for an exhibition.

They were inspired by and painted in the style of local artist

Lucy Young. The paintings have been framed and have been exhibited in Axminster Arts Cafe during the summer holidays where they have attracted much interest.

■ ORGANISERS: The team behind the event (above) and (right) teachers in the firing line

Teachers get a soaking but it's all in a good cause for charity

STAFF were in for a soaking when Axe Valley Community College student Lydia Hartnell organised a fundraising event for The Cystic Fibrosis Trust.

Lydia chose this charity as it is very close to her heart, her younger brother Quentin has CF and also a development delay.

CF is a genetic disease which affects the lungs and digestive system.

Lydia and a team of her friends - Bethany Hill, Freya Robley, Emily Badger, Alice Cann, Eve Hardwick, Ethan Hulme, Charley Ovendon, Britney Macklin, Chelsea Dack and Amber Snell - organised a Soak the Teacher event and cake sale.

Lydia would like to thank the teachers that very kindly offered themselves up as 'victims' - Mr Smith, Mr Perks, Mr Horn,

Mr Scott, Mr Davies and Miss Stockton.

Lydia said: "A massive thank you to all the people who donated, bought a cake, threw a sponge or chucked a bucket of water for my charity, The Cystic Fibrosis Trust."

"It was a great deal of fun and we raised an impressive £146.60."

"I would especially like to thank Chelsea and Freya, as they ran around the field an impressive nine times at lunch."

"Amber Snell was also going to run but she had an injury and wasn't able to come into school but I would like to say thank you to her for helping me with the assemblies, to Eve, Beth and Ethan in charge of the cake stall and Charley, Emily, Alice and Britney helped me with the sponge throwing."

"I think we all agree it was great fun."

World War One candle vigil at the church

ALMOST 50 people turned up at Minster Green in Axminster at 10pm for a one-hour vigil to mark the start of The Great War 100 years ago.

The candle-lit vigil was organised by the Axminster branch of the Royal British Legion, and was part of the UK-wide Lights Out initiative.

Lights Out was organised by the Royal British Legion and invited everyone to take part in a moment of reflection by leaving on a single light or candle between 10am and 11pm on Tuesday, August 5th.

Axminster branch president Ken Brake is pictured lighting a candle.

Ambling to restore The Minster

A SPONSORED Axe Amble and a picnic tea with stalls and a raffle, starting and ending at Weycroft Bridge bed and breakfast establishment will take place on Bank Holiday Monday (August 25th) to raise funds for The Minster Restoration Fund.

Building work using local contractors for phase one of the project has now begun and will last for 10 weeks.

Architect Chris Romain has been instructed to draw up detailed plans and costings for this phase two which will include essential facilities such as kitchen, toilet, storage provision and a newly designed West end entrance area.

A spokesperson for The Minster said: "We know that this next phase will cost considerably more than the present phase and will require much patience, support and hard work from all possible funding sources to raise the money."

"It is very exciting to see the beginnings of the restoration work coming to pass after so many years of planning and also to have the pleasure of meeting and involving so many people from the community of Axminster in such an important project to restore and improve this ancient church building situated in the centre of the town."

Margaret and Alan Marcimak have kindly offered their grounds by the banks of the Axe at Weycroft Bridge for the Bank Holiday event and several local businesses have donated generous gifts for this event. There will be some stalls and a picnic tea available while the sponsored walkers will complete a circuit of about five miles around the River Axe.

Details of the event can be found on posters around the town and sponsorship forms are available from Archway bookshop or the TIC.

Barrel rolling is Regatta Week highlight

HUGE crowds were out in force along Fore Street for the popular barrel rolling event, which was part of the Beer Regatta last week. It is the second year that the event has been

Guests were invited to wear a hat and Fuchsia

Fashions of Fore Street offered to make donations to the charity for every hat they sold.

Local companies helped with prizes including a meat voucher from GW Meats.

When the rain stopped everyone went onto the terrace dressed in their finery for a 'photo call'.

Children will benefit from the £200 raised through the purchase of with the likes of sensory/soft play equipment and wheelchair roundabouts.

Flower show is big hit

FROM six-year-old Tilly Adkin to 91-year-old Eileen Boalch, age was no barrier to success in the 89th annual Beer & Horticultural Society Flower Show at the Mariners' Hall in Beer.

Young Tilly was the proud winner of two cups at the show having taken part in the Lego model, wild flowers and painting on a pebble competitions. That gave her top spot overall in the children's classes and she lifted the Chambers Cup.

Eileen was delighted to finish joint first with Bob Passey in the Challenge Cup thanks to her entry of cherry tomatoes, courgettes and runner beans.

"It is the first time I have won this cup and I am delighted," said Eileen.

Multiple winner Bob picked up awards in almost 10 classes and was particularly proud of his onions.

Another youngster to impress was seven-year-old Sienna Arbourne, who won three prizes for her exceptional miniature garden, vase of flowers and best picture.

"The number of entries was slightly down on last year but the quality of the ones we got were very impressive," said organiser Ursula Makepeace.

"I was also delighted to see that we had more visitors to the show than in any previous years, which was very encouraging."

Ann Robinson will remember the 2014 show as it marked her debut and she walked away with the cup for the best lady newcomer.

"I have lived in the village for 15 years but this is the first time I have entered the competition and I only finally made up my mind the night before to do the flower arranging," said Ann.

History of Bletchley Park's role in WWII

MOST people are well aware of the role that Bletchley Park played in the Second World War but there can be few with such an intimate knowledge of the subject as Roy Kibble-White, who spoke to Axminster Probus Club at the August meeting.

Seaton's Voice member steps in to give last-minute talk for U3A

SEATON'S Voice member Carol Manley saved the day at a recent meeting of the local University of the Third Age (U3A) branch, after their scheduled speaker did not arrive due to a mistaken date.

Carol gave members an entertaining talk about the development of Seaton's Voice, a group of volunteers who came together and have been running the Town Hall as a community service since October 2009.

Rather than let the Edwardian Town Hall be converted to a commercial or residential use, the group have worked to create a facility for entertainment and special activities for Seaton with a great number of groups working either in the Town Hall or in tutor's homes.

The latest achievement has been the development of "The Gateway to a World of Entertainment", which screens live shows and concerts from all over the world. The project has now become a Limited Company.

Carol had stepped in at five minutes' notice, brushed her hair and refreshed her lipstick and treated the members to half an hour's informative entertainment without a single note or prop! Instead of being disappointed, the group happily chatted over tea and biscuits and looking forward to future events.

There will be no meeting in August but on the group will reform on September 23rd at 2 pm, where there will be a talk entitled "The Warm Heart of Africa".

In 1938 the threat of war had forced government departments to consider moves out of London as air raids were greatly feared. One of those was the cipher department, which relocated to the mansion of Bletchley Park, on the market then for £7,500.

The site commander was a man named Alistair Dennison. It is said that when he interviewed new recruits he did so with a loaded revolver on the table and threatened to personally shoot anyone who betrayed the Official Secrets Act!

Until 1938 codes had been broken manually but the Enigma machine changed all that and new methods were required. Fortunately, the Poles had managed to acquire a machine and collaborated with the Allies.

Some of the best brains in the country sought ways of solving the problem. In 1941 a group of code breakers wrote secretly to Churchill to complain of a lack of resources. His memo was typical as he demanded "action this day" to his staff.

Although the Germans considered their codes to be unbreakable there were flaws in the system which were exploited by Bletchley. Alan Turing is widely credited with solving the code but there were others of equal standing including engineers and mathematicians.

Until early 1942 the Enigma machine had three wheels. Then, messages again became cryptic and it was not until October of that year when paperwork was recovered from a U-boat that it was realised a change had been made to create a four-wheel machine and the codes were again decipherable.

From then on the submarine menace became manageable and battlefield information flowed to the Generals until progress following D-Day reduced the need for advance knowledge as the dependency was now on immediate and local knowledge.

The site was closed down at the end of 1944 when no less than 10,000 people were involved with the project.

The Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets at the A35 Pit Stop, Gammons Hill, Kilminster on the first Tuesday of each month. For further information call 01460 220528.

Gardeners take trip to East Lambrook

NO less than 31 members of Ottery St Mary Gardeners' Club enjoyed a trip to East Lambrook Manor and to Sheppey Cider Museum recently.

The gardens at Lambrook were a picture and members were welcomed by the owner who gave a brief history of the house and garden.

The group then enjoyed tastings at the Cider Museum, with of the group bringing back quantities of the cider to have at home.

The next visit will be to Kingston Lacy and Knoll Gardens on Tuesday 16th September. Kingston Lacy has parkland with Japanese, evergreen, cherry and sunken gardens, plus an acer glade and parterre. Knoll Gardens is known for its grasses but also unusual trees, shrubs and perennials.

The group's autumn show is on Saturday, September 13th. For more information on any of the above contact Brian Nelson on 01404 813643.

Phoenix ladies learn about mother-of-pearl

MEMBERS of Axminster Phoenix Ladies Club recently enjoyed a fascinating talk by Francis Watson on mother-of-pearl.

Mr Watson's interest started as a schoolboy, eventually leading from collecting small items to numerous papier-mache boxes inlaid with mother-of-pearl, in all shapes, sizes and designs. Each box opened to reveal a myriad of items in the same material, ranging from counters to brooches, bookmarks, religious artefacts, buttons, flatware, charms for bracelets and many more objects, too numerous to mention.

Sadly, members were unable to retain a memento of Mr Watson's visit but it certainly spurred them on to start collecting mother-of-pearl items from antique fairs and centres.

At a later open meeting, members learnt about the sad passing of former WI member and long-time Phoenix member, Patsy Stephens, and a minute's silence was held in her memory.

During the meeting, members voted to move their traditional Christmas lunch in Sidmouth to January 2015.

Four charities were nominated to receive this year's charitable donation and four venues were selected for the November Christmas shopping trip. Members will vote for the charity and shopping trip of their choice at the September meeting. It was also agreed that support for Aita Kumari in Nepal will continue until her secondary education is completed.

As Phoenix Ladies do not meet in August, the next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, September 10th when guest speaker, Dr John Twibell, will talk on "Forensic Science of Plants" at 2.30pm in the United Reform Church hall. Visitors and new members always welcomed.

Whitford Show draws in the crowds

■ WHITFORD WINNERS: Successful exhibitors and the village produce show pictured with Mr Michael Pritchard, managing director of Pecorama at Beer, who opened the annual show

NOW in its 67th year, Whitford and District Village Produce Association continues to go from strength to strength.

Its annual summer show in the sports field, Whitford, attracted hundreds of visitors on a glorious summer's afternoon, who enjoyed the many country pursuits on offer.

First held in 1947, Whitford Show is considered to be one of the principal village events of its kind in East Devon and this year's event, opened by Michael Pritchard, managing director of Pecorama in Beer, was no exception. Mr Pritchard later presented the show trophies.

As well as the large selection of flowers, vegetables, cookery and handicrafts on show, the afternoon's activities included a dog show, judged by former vet and chairman of East Devon District Council, Graham Godbeer, craft and bric-a-brac stalls and music from Chard Concert Brass, who have played for the organisers since 1981. Refreshments were also served by the ladies of the committee and there was a barbecue and beer tent.

An extended display of miniature steam engines and tractor and wheat thrashing machines also attracted great interest.

Chairman Maureen Davey reported that the 400 entries in the produce categories were down on last year due to the difficulty of the growing season, but the quality of exhibits was well up to the Whitford standard, with the vegetable section being particularly impressive.

As always it was a successful afternoon for Chris Loud, whose family have been connected with the show since its inception. Mr Loud has exhibited at Whitford since he was a boy and this year's event saw him take home six trophies – the Pole Cup for most prize money in the vegetable and flower open sections; the Dr M.F. Bridie Cup for most prize money in the members' sections; the Earl Carter Cup for the best selection of onions; the Moore Cup for most points in the open and members' flower classes; and the Fil Loud Cup for the best dahlia.

Other trophy winners were: Mike Norris for the best sweet peas; Cecilia Fitzsimons (Stokoe Cup for the most prize winners in members' vegetables and flower classes, first time winner); Sheila Webber (Colcombe Wood Rose Bowl for best rose); John Lang (the Jim and Phyl Hallett Memorial Trophy for the best gladioli); Ashleigh Roberts (Bakers Cottage Bowl for most point in the children's classes); Keith Mitcham (Shute Horticultural Society Cup for arrangements); Wendy Mitcham (Shute Cup for cookery and preserves); Kerry James (Sylvia J. Stunt Rose Bowl for handicrafts); and John Lang (Colyton Garden Shop voucher for the best begonias).

All the fun of the fayre!

■ AN afternoon of countryside fun was enjoyed by hundreds at the annual Southleigh Fayre on Wednesday. The highlight of the event was a horseback falconry display by local man Jonathan Marshall, who said he was pleased to show off his Spanish-style riding skills to a home crowd, as he is usually on tour all over the country. Other country pursuits included an equestrian musical ride, sheep racing, sheep shearing, a dog show and a vintage tractor parade. The crowd was able to join in with the tug o' war, egg throwing and children's races, as well as enjoying traditional Punch & Judy shows, a bouncy castle a large variety of stalls, a barbecue and other refreshments. Money raised on the day was split between the village hall, church and other local charities.

Seaton could improve disabled access

■ PLEASE can we see film of Seaton Town Council meetings?

It is allowed in law and also it would save a lot of time, improve communication between the council and the public of Seaton.

Also, as a partially disabled person who at times has to use a disabled buggy, I would suggest that all the members of the council should experience at least one day trying to deal with shopping and leisure in one of these. Trying to get down the steps at the back of the Chimes on the beach is impossible and a level sloped path could be incorporated after travelling successfully along Westcliff path.

Also, a lot of incapacitated people who could be agile once in the sea water, cannot at the moment reach the edge of the sea.

On Beer Beach and at Seaton Yacht Club, there are long rubber mats which could be manned by council workers to be pulled down and back near the sea according to the tide.

For me, it is quite upsetting relating my own feelings, seeing many people along the path in disabled buggies and wheelchairs looking out at the beach, unable to get any further.

Double mini-roundabout at Hunters Lodge

■ MUCH as I agree that something must be done to allow safe entry onto the A35 at Hunters Lodge from both Lyme Regis and Crewkerne, I am of the opinion that a less expensive solution may be installed and which should be equally safe.

A double mini roundabout – one situated at the Lyme Regis junction and one at the Crewkerne Road junction – would prove more effective for safe traffic flow. Advanced warnings to slow traffic will also be very helpful.

I am uncertain of the policy for mini-roundabouts on trunk roads but would argue that a mini roundabout is situated at the beginning of the A35 at Honiton.

A mini roundabout – comparatively easy and less expensive to install and certainly an important safety factor.

Thanks to district's countryside team

I WOULD like to thank the fantastic East Devon District Council countryside team.

I was exploring our wonderful wetlands with my three-year-old son and we met some of the staff who, despite just finishing a long day teaching schoolchildren, freely offered to lend my son a net and a tray so he could do some pond dipping. They then kindly spent time looking and helping him identify what he had caught.

A great learning experience for us both with such dedicated nature lovers.

Council should maintain cycle path

■ AS most people know there is a cycle path in Seaton that runs from Colyford Road through to the Underfleet. This path is clearly signposted and used by many cyclists and walkers alike. As such, I am of the opinion that its upkeep is the responsibility of the council.

It would seem, however, that the council is neglecting in its duty of care to provide a clear and safe environment for the people who use it. Until recently it was completely overgrown with brambles, thistles and weeds. This was eventually cut back but the debris was left in place so anyone such as the elderly, poor sighted, children, etc.

had to dodge about trying to avoid either slipping or tripping up.

This week a lovely gentleman from Scalwell Park took it upon himself to trim back the overhanging brambles that threatened to catch someone in the eye! I hope that in future the aforesaid duty of care will come into play before someone sues the council for the lack of it!

Closure of Branscombe toilets is 'ridiculous'

■ WE have just spent a week at Branscombe, near Seaton – beautiful weather, families enjoying the sunshine on the beach and in the sea.

We went for a walk on the way back and needed to use the toilet in the car park, and I was horrified to be told that the powers that be (I guess Devon County Council) want to close the toilets. I have never heard anything so ridiculous; so many walkers use the coastal path that goes through Branscombe beach and quite a few are elderly, as we are, and parents need somewhere to maybe wash and change their children.

I just cannot believe it. You can't expect the restaurant on the beach to have everyone using their facilities so, for goodness sake, rethink the closure of the toilets.

You want people to visit your wonderful Jurassic Coast yet you are prepared to take away their facilities.

MR AND MRS D. AND M. GARDNER,

Support for Biblical account at Jurassic Centre

■ AS Christians, we think that the Biblical account of God's creation of the earth, as given in chapter one of Genesis, should be given alongside that of the evolution theory when being displayed in our new Jurassic Centre.

We entirely agree with Mr Gorf's opening statement in his letter of August 12th concerning the effects of the worldwide flood which, it is important to mention, occurred over 4,300 years ago, as this had such a large impact on the geology of the world.

Christian Aid Week raises more than £2,000

■ ONCE again, a big thank you for the generosity of everyone who contributed to Christian Aid Week this year.

We raised £2,062.03 from Axminster and the local villages, and because so many completed the gift aid declarations, about an extra £250 will be added by the tax man. We would particularly like to thank all the local Post Offices who so kindly assisted by receiving the envelopes. It is really good to know, especially at this tragic time in world history, that we are helping Christian Aid in supporting substantial projects which enable people to work their way out of poverty, with "no strings", in so many places.

THE Reverend Geoffrey Walsh opens from Axminster: "How would you feel if your life was threatened unless you changed your beliefs and converted to another religion?"

"This, of course, you scoff at, here sitting comfortably in a country where our laws allow us the freedom to worship who or what we wish. This, however, is not the case in the Middle East where a number of countries outlaw Christianity. In Iraq, whilst the world has been focusing on Israel and Palestine, ISIS is moving south towards Baghdad; tens of thousands of Iraqis are fleeing their homes. Iraqi Christians, if caught, are given the option of converting to Islam and paying the Islamic fine or, as in the majority of cases, they are murdered.

"Numerous churches have been burnt down and countless Christians have been forced to flee or killed. Please don't ignore their plight, pray for our brothers and sisters and for all those giving them aid.

"The war in Gaza leads this week's news coverage; the Archbishop of Canterbury issued a long statement on Wednesday. We cannot pretend our correspondent sends cheering reports but Christian and Islamic clerics in Beirut held a sit-in and prayed together about both situations.

"Elsewhere, Anglican Bishops in England expressed various views but chiefly calling on the UK government to follow the example of France and grant refuge to Christians fleeing Iraq. In the light of present events, The Archbishop of Canterbury has called on Britain to 'open its doors' to the thousands of refugees fleeing the advance of Islamist militants in Iraq. Protesters who have gathered in Whitehall have called on Britain to help.

"The Yazidis as senior figures have said that 2,000 years of Christianity could be wiped out. In the Middle East at least 1.5million people have been displaced by violence to date. Help in the form of over £8million has been sent from Britain."

And so to local events – Thursday, August 21st opens with a Church Market at Branscombe Village Hall, 10.30am to 12noon in aid of the church – enquires to 01297 553482.

Lunchtime Concert at the Minster Church in Axminster is also on Thursday 21st at 12.30pm. Free admission and lunch available.

Axminster United Reformed Church on Chard Street, on Thursday, August 21st, will be the venue for a bargain jumble sale from 9.30am to 12noon, which includes jams, cakes, light lunches and coffee/tea for sale.

Honiton St Paul's is the venue on Friday, August 22nd for the regular concert at 1pm to 1.45pm with light lunches for £4 and the concert for £5.

St Cuthbert's Church at Widworthy is having a United Benefice Songs of Praise on Sunday, August 31st at 6pm. The Archdeacon of Exeter, Christopher Fletcher, is taking the service. All welcome, parking at the church, enquiries to 01404 831193.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

Ottery St Mary Parish Church continues with Messy Church on the second Monday of the month but is looking for helpers for this, Play & Praise and other work with Children and young people. Unexpected serious illness and a return to work have depleted the bank of wonderful helpers.

Each Friday at 4pm there is a service of Holy Communion in the Ottery Hospital for patients, friends and other supporters. The previous priest at St Anthony's Roman Catholic Church is hoping to visit during the month.

The Tuesday morning coffee get-togethers at the Methodist and oarish churches are attracting a number of non-church-goers as well as some of the regular congregations – everyone is welcome.

Looking ahead, for those partaking the Devon Historic Churches sponsored Ride and Stride for local churches will know the date this year as Saturday, September 13th – enquiries to 01395 442625. If that date is not good can anything else take its place?

Looking ahead again, Saturday, September 20th at Exeter Cathedral is the annual Licensing and Admission of Readers taking place in the cathedral at 2.30pm.

This has been a year of anniversaries, from which laws built on its foundations still survive – not all cheerful ones – but June 1215 saw the sealing of Magna Carta by King John. This could be a chance for churches to reaffirm their historic and current place in public life. A new book from CUP, "Magna Carta, Religion and the Rule of Law" is due in 2015.

Pam Rhodes of BBC's "Songs of Praise" fame offers some lighter reading under the title "Casting the Net (The Dunbridge Chronicles)". A further new title "Making the Most of Your Church Wedding; a gift to last a lifetime" has just been published by SPCK (£4.99 or £4.49 each for a dozen).

News has just arrived that The Ven Bill Schwartz OBE is to be appointed the new Archdeacon in the Gulf from December 31st 2014. Good to hear and we will pray for them all. Bill began his service as Diocesan Secretary at Nicosia, followed later by ordination.

HONITON'S new councillor Jackie Wadsworth has lived in the town her whole life, having worked in a string of different professions over the years.

Now a full-time carer for her husband and elderly mother, Jackie has been a strong opponent of plans to close the St Michael's Day Centre and is also keen to stand up for vulnerable people facing the impact of public service cuts.

Married for 30 years, she recently celebrated her anniversary with a cruise around the Mediterranean, but is now eager to get to work serving the people of Honiton.

● WHY do you think you have stayed in Honiton for so long?

I'm a born and bred Honitonian and could not imagine living anywhere else. It's a nice little town with friendly people, it has everything you could ever want. Honiton has the best of the town and the countryside, and I really enjoy taking my dogs for a walk around the area.

● WHAT are the major issues facing the town at the moment?

I don't think there is one major issue in Honiton right now, but there are one or two things that I think do need addressing. I feel very strongly about the older generation losing out with the closure of the St Michael's Day Centre. It's going to have quite an effect on the older people in the town, and for the people who care for them. For people who do not see anybody from day to day, St Michael's is their lifeline. The younger generation are experiencing similar problems with their own building and it is important that somebody stands up for them.

● WHAT are you hoping to achieve as a town councillor?

I've really enjoyed the first few weeks as a councillor. Honiton has a great team of people working for the good of the town and they have all been very helpful and friendly. My main aim is simply to help the families of Honiton. Most of the councillors are very well informed about what is going on in the town and I can only hope to replicate their efforts. I want to put out the message that I will always be available to listen to people. If anybody has got any problems, they should feel confident in coming to me.

● WHAT past experience do you have that makes you a suitable person for the role?

I've experienced a lot of different people and places and worked quite a few jobs over the years – in a garage, in shops, in the manufacturing industry. I also helped with my husband's cleaning business and worked in the old abattoir in the 1980s and 90s before it was demolished. But I really enjoyed being a barmaid, working in Exeter clubs as well as at the Royal British Legion, the Red Lion and the Carlton in recent years. Working behind the bar, you get to meet a cross-section of people and hopefully that ability to work with all different kinds of people will help me as a councillor.

● ARE there any life lessons you stick by?

If you have a goal in life make sure you do not give it up. Don't let anything stand in your way.

Carnival celebrations set to bring Seaton to life

KEEPING the family occupied at the end of the summer holidays need not be a worry if you're out and about in Seaton. A choice of entertainment is on offer for children and adults of all ages on The Esplanade and in the town hall, organised by Seaton Carnival Committee. It is aimed at raising funds for local charities and bringing visitors into Seaton for the procession night. There will be a variety of events from Friday, August 22nd to Saturday, August 30th.

On Friday 22nd Seaton Carnival has a Darts Pair

Competition at Seaton Football Club from 7:30pm.

The week of fun continues on Saturday 23rd with a table top sale for all the family at Seaton Town Hall from 10am-12 noon, and there's also entertainment for the kids at Windsor Gardens between 11am and 3pm. Spaces are still available at the table top sale; if you wish for a table to be reserved please call Carnival Secretary Marie Churchill on 01297 22732. The popular bingo night in the town hall takes place the same day; doors open 7.30pm.

Sunday, August 24th is full of events happening around the town. The Classic Vehicle Show on the esplanade takes place from 10am-5pm. The Outdoor Art Exhibition by local artists takes place between midday and 3pm; art will be available to view and purchase.

The crabbing competition for the children is from 3pm at Seaton Angling Centre, and there's also Songs of Praise for all the family to have a sing-a-long. Derek Payne MBE will be crowning this year's Carnival Queen, Laura Fisher, and her princesses Amanda Mettam and Louise Tyne at 6pm in Jubilee Gardens. Also this year, Seaton Town Council are organising a Bubble World Cup – an exciting five-a-side bodyzorbng football as you've never seen it before – on Underfleet playing fields from 11am. It's £5 a team and free to watch the games. To enter, please call 01297 21388 or 01297 20797.

Do you have any plans for Bank Holiday Monday (August 25th)? The whole family can grab a bargain at the carnival's famous Street Fayre. There will be 40 plus stalls, from market traders to charities.

There's also a Bowling Drive at the bowling green from 2pm. Spaces are still available at the Street Fayre; if you wish for a space to be reserved please call Marie on 01297 22732.

Do you know the local area well or fancy finding out more about the beautiful surroundings? Then join in the fun at the Car Treasure Hunt on Tuesday, August 26th, starting from Axe Valley Centre Car park (next to the St Clare's site) at 6:30pm. Don't forget your torch in case you get lost and all clues can be seen from the car. For more details please contact Eric Samways on 01297 24260.

The whole family can enjoy the Battle of the Brains Quiz Night at Seaton Town Hall; doors open at 7pm on Wednesday, August 27th. Please call 01297 22007 for your entry forms so you can prove to all your friends and family that you have what it takes to win!

There's a murder mystery night at the town Hall on Thursday, August 28th from 7:30pm. Can you solve the mystery? Seaton Drama Group has a great night out planned with a quiz.

On Friday, August 29th there is an open shore fishing competition on Seaton Beach from 7pm to midnight.

Do you need a great night out with friends and family? Then come along to the Seaton Carnival Variety Night starring singer and guitarist Jon Croose, comedy magician Rob Hendy and top 80s tribute act 'Reflex 80' on Friday, August 29th at the town hall; doors open

Message from the Secretary

I HAVE been involved in the Carnival for 17 years and this is my forth year as Secretary and Programme Editor. I would like to say a big thanks to all of the advertisers in the programme and anyone that has taken part in the I-Spy competition. I also would like to thank my husband, Terry Churchill, for all the help throughout the year. Also, thanks to Ian Barradale for the photos which are in this years programme.

If you would like to help raise funds for carnival to give to local charities, on Procession night I will be on the Esplanade from 6.30pm giving out the official collection tins. I hope to see more collectors this year in fancy dress and with the carnival spirit. I hope to see you all throughout the week at the carnival events and at the carnival procession on Saturday. See you there.

Seaton's 2013 illuminated carnival procession will take place on Saturday August 30th, and starts at 8pm on the Esplanade. Seaton Carnival is traditionally the first carnival in the East Devon circuit and attracts floats and entries from not only East Devon but also across Devon, Dorset and Somerset. Each year thousands of people come to see the event, which features bands, majorettes and lots of colourful floats.

Please Note the streets to be closed for procession night are: Fishermans Gap, Trevelyan Road, Beach Road, Harbour Road, Underfleet, Fore Street, Marine Place and the Esplanade. To help the carnival procession keep going for many years to come, please come along and collect on the night, you might win a prize if you come in fancy dress. Collection tins are available from outside The Pebble Coffee House from 6.30pm..

If you would like to enter the procession, please call Procession Manager June Millman on 01297 23491. Please return the forms by noon on Wednesday August 27th.

Please buy a carnival programme from local shops and businesses to find out more information also for the colouring competition, I-spy competition, the Photo Hunt and the FREE £100 lucky prize draw sponsored by Seaton Fish Bar.

All of Seaton Carnival Committee hopes that the sun will be out and everyone enjoys all of the events and please give generously so the committee can give back to local charities. Last year the carnival week and main procession raised £2,135. The Carnival week would not happen without the support of the traders/businesses advertising in the carnival programme and the public that help them every year raise money to give to local charities and have kept the carnival procession going for 49 years.

Happy to support Seaton Carnival

2 Queen Street, Seaton 01297 2455

Seaton Carnival needs your help!

S EATON Carnival week and the main procession raised £2,135 last year to give to local charities.

£500 was donated to the Royal British Legion Seaton Branch (Poppy Appeal) for all their hard work in carnival week.

Donations were also given to Seaton Drama Group, RNLI, Seaton Fire Brigade, Bellini's Bathers, Seaton Majorettes, Seaton's Lions Young Leaders, Seaton Scouts, Seaton Guides, Seaton Brownies and Seaton Town Youth Football Club.

Seaton Carnival Committee also donated to Seaton in Bloom and the Natural Seaton Festival earlier in the year.

The committee needs your help this year to be able to give more money to local charities than ever before. You can help on the carnival procession by collecting money around the carnival route with a collection tin that you can get from The Esplanade, or by emptying your pockets into the official collection tins.

You can also help support the committee by taking part in the many events planned throughout the year and especially carnival week.

If you would like to help or join the carnival committee please call the chairman Kevin Frost on 01297 24330 for more information.

Carnival week would not happen without the support of the traders / businesses advertisers in the programme and the public that help the committee raise money to give to charities – and have kept the carnival procession going for 49 years.

So please give them a hand to help the carnival go on for another 49 years.

Testudo are going on a Summer Holiday!

FOLLOWING their spectacular sell out success with last year's show, Testudo Musical Players are deep into rehearsals for this year's production of 'Summer Holiday' to be staged at The Gateway, Seaton Town Hall from Wednesday 17th to Saturday, September 20th. Once again a wealth of local teenage talent can be witnessed from the principal players very ably supported by an energetic chorus. With such popular Cliff Richard songs as 'Living Doll', 'The Young Ones', 'Do you wanna dance' and 'The next time' and under the dynamic direction of Debbie Bradley and assistant Adam Tedbury this is promising to be another 'Smash Hit'! You're advised to book your seat now!

Tickets are on sale at The Gateway box office £12 in advance and £15 on the door (only £6 for aged 14 and under). Tel: 01297 625699.

FOLK TAKES TO THE FLOOR

Lyme Folk Weekend's bumper Saturday night bill will follow the town with folk as headliners, Lisa Knapp and Ducie take to the stage at Marine Theatre, with feel-good sounds from the Pilot Boat and a foot-stomping, full-on Ceilidh in the Langmoor Gardens Marquee.

Lisa Knapp, who won this year's Best Original Song at the Radio 2 Folk Awards, is a rare talent who combines significant song-writing craft with distinctive vocals. Described as "fresh" "original" and "unpredictable" her music combines traditional English folk singing with modern instrumentation and technology. Her latest album, Hidden Seam, has been critically acclaimed as "a masterful creation" and "one of the most compelling folk releases of the year". Expect vocal and musical gymnastics galore

Lisa will be joined by Ducie returning by popular demand after dazzling last year's crowd with their virtuoso musical skills ranging from Celtic folk to Latin beats. A four-piece comprising double bass, guitar, percussion and fiddle, Ducie cross musical genres. Led by Andy Dinan on fiddle, formerly with Ade Edmondson's Bad Shepherds, the punk folk band, they defy musical pigeonholes. They rocked it last year and we expect nothing less this year.

Meanwhile at the Pilot Boat, a combination of young, upcoming acts such as Aimee and firm favourites, such as the hilarious Uke-Men League and the fabulous Patch & the Giant, provides a lively showcase for folk's finest.

A ceilidh, hosted by Dorset Ceilidh Band, in a new venue, the Langmoor Gardens Marquee, will round off Saturday evening in fine foot-to-the-floor form.

◆ Lyme Folk Weekend takes place from Friday, August 29th to Sunday, August 31st.

Lisa Knapp & Ducie play the Marine Theatre on Saturday 30th at 7.30pm. Tickets £15 (standing) £19 (seated). 16 and under £10/£14. Tickets from www.lymefolk.com or 01297 442138 (Lyme Regis TIC).

Aimee, Uke-Men League, Patch & the Giant, also play on Saturday 30th at The Pilot Boat Inn, doors open 7.30pm, Tickets £5 on the door or from seafront festival office

Ceilidh with Dorset Ceilidh Band and Rookwood, Saturday 30th August, Langmoor Gardens Marquee, 8pm, Tickets £5 on the door or from seafront festival office

LUNCHTIME CONCERT AT ST PAUL'S

ST PAUL'S Church in Honiton will host another lunchtime concert on Friday, August 22nd, featuring soprano Rosemary Henry, Philip Henry on clarinet, and Josephine Pickering on piano. The concert will take place from 1pm, and light lunches are available from 12 noon.

Josephine Pickering was born in Bristol in 1935 and began to play the piano at the age of four. Having received an M.A. degree at Oxford University she taught music for GCE A level and O level/GCSE for 9 years in Sussex and later for a further 24 years in Loughborough. Since retiring to Exmouth in 1999 she has taken up piano-duet playing, accompanying and a certain amount of composition.

Philip and Rosemary came to Devon after their marriage in 1977 and have been making music together ever since, usually within the context of worship or concerts in local churches. They enjoy sharing their love of music with others whilst helping to raise money for various charities and aiming to lift the spirits of those who live in retirement homes.

The concert will raise funds for repairs to the fabric of the church.

Take a trip to Neville's Island

FOUR out-of-condition, middle-management businessmen are sent out on a team-building exercise in the Lake District. Their hapless captain steers his unfortunate crew into disaster at the offset. What follows is a series of hilarious mishaps from the various members.

Surrounded by thick fog on a small island and invisible to potential rescuers, they must fight for survival as best they can until salvation. Menaced by fur, fish, feather and flesh, and far from the light-hearted, bonding weekend they had in mind, the situation sinks gloriously into the abyss of fears and recriminations. Gordon, Angus, Roy and Neville, are the protagonists battling it out against the odds.

This tantalising comedy is beautifully wicked. It has everything – poignancy, darkness, drama and laughter in abundance.

Tim Firth is the author of this wonderfully constructed play, written back in 1992, and performed repeatedly and successfully ever since. He is also the author of the brilliant 'Calendar Girls', which came later.

'Neville's Island', will be performed at the Guildhall, Axminster, Thursday 4th, Friday 5th and Saturday, September 6th at 7.30pm each night.

Tickets are available at the Archway Bookshop, Church Street, Axminster – 01297 33595 (After hours Tel: 01404 831089) Adults £8 in Advance £10 On The Door

I moved to Axminster in 2013 and already have a well established mobile foot care clinic, offering a consultation and treatment service for foot health problems. My initial visit includes a full medical history overview, foot health assessment, professional foot advice and treatment.

My aim is to provide my patients with a professional and friendly service ensuring that the highest standards of hygiene are maintained at all times. I work with each patient on a foot health treatment plan to achieve and maintain healthy and pain free feet.

New Audi A7 Sportback Range Champions Efficiency

▲ Audi A7 Sportback is inbound

A NEW range of Audi A7 Sportback models, including a 60mpg V6 TDI ultra, becomes available in the UK this week, further enriching the blend of grand tourer elegance and executive car versatility already offered by the acclaimed 'five-door coupe'. Priced from £45,875 OTR, the latest, simplified A7 Sportback line-up combines enhanced EU6-compliant engines with styling revisions, new LED headlights and tail lights including 'sweeping' indicators, further improved interior decor and upgraded infotainment. The first examples are set to arrive with UK customers in the last quarter of 2014.

First in line in the new order for the latest A7 Sportback is SE Executive specification, which replaces the Standard and SE options in the outgoing range. Highlights which elevate this comprehensive new trim level above its predecessors include all-weather LED headlights, sweeping rear indicators, 19-inch alloy wheels and deluxe four-zone automatic air conditioning. It also includes comforts such as heated and Milano leather-upholstered seats with electric adjustment, MMI navigation, Audi Music Interface, front and rear acoustic parking sensors and a powered tailgate, to name but a small proportion of the features.

S line specification is next in line, and is enhanced in the latest range by larger 20-inch alloy wheels (up from 19 inches), sweeping function indicators at the front and rear and Matrix LED headlights. Each of these advanced units features 25 separate LED bulbs which are individually dimmed when sensors detect oncoming or following traffic to automatically divert light around obstacles without the need to deactivate the high beam setting.

More S line options

In a new departure for the A7 Sportback range, the sports suspension that is included as part of the S line specification can be 'deselected' in favour of standard suspension at no extra cost if required, and for an even greater focus on comfort the wheel size in this version can be dropped down to 19-inch, also at no cost. Inside, in another break with tradition, the normally black S line colour scheme can also now be replaced by a new Lunar silver colour option.

At the upper end of the range, Black Edition, S7 Sportback and RS 7 Sportback models also of course benefit from all the relevant styling and equipment enhancements.

From launch, these improved specification levels will be available in combination with a choice of six powerful and highly efficient engines offering enhanced power outputs ranging from 218PS to 450PS, and complying with stringent EU6 emissions legislation.

A particular highlight in the new line-up will undoubtedly be the A7 Sportback ultra, the first in this new range of overtly efficiency focused models to combine frugality worthy of the ultra badge with six cylinder power. The heavily modified single-turbo 3.0-litre V6 is capable of returning an outstanding 60.1mpg, corresponding to CO2 emissions of 122 grams per kilometre, and a seven-speed S tronic twin-clutch transmission newly developed specifically for front-wheel-drive applications helps to maximise its 400Nm peak torque output and delivers keener response than the multitronic CVT transmission used by its closest predecessor. In the TDI ultra the 0-62mph sprint takes just 7.3 seconds on the way to a top speed of 149mph.

The 218PS V6 TDI engine is also available in the new range in conjunction with quattro permanent all-wheel-drive and seven-speed S tronic transmission, a configuration that is shared by the 272PS single-turbo V6 which slots in above it in the range. In the top TDI tier, the mighty 320PS twin turbo BitDI channels its 650Nm via the eight-speed tiptronic automatic. As an alternative to diesel power, a super-charged six-cylinder petrol unit delivering 333PS and linked to the seven-speed S tronic transmission and quattro all-wheel-drive is also available.

30PS more for S7 Sportback

V8 twin-turbo petrol power is reserved for the new S7 Sportback and RS 7 Sportback models, the latter set to open for order next month ready for first deliveries in the first quarter of 2015. The S7 Sportback now benefits from a 30PS power upgrade to 450PS while the RS 7 Sportback uses its 560PS output to deliver a remarkable sub-four-second 0-62mph sprint time. The S7 Sportback uses the seven-speed S tronic twin-clutch and the RS 7 Sportback the eight-speed tiptronic, and the units in both cars employ Cylinder-on-Demand technology to make the most of every tank of fuel. The new S7 Sportback shows a slight improvement in economy despite its power boost, returning up to 30.4mpg according to the official combined cycle test, and benefits from a 4% or 10g/km reduction in CO2 output to 215g/km. In the RS 7 Sportback, engine revisions have also brought slight improvements to CO2 output and economy, which now stand at 221g/km and 29.7mpg (according to the combined cycle test).

All versions of the new A7 Sportback are available with the added cushioning comfort of four-mode adaptive air suspension, and quattro versions can also be equipped with the sport differential for precise torque distribution between the rear wheels for even greater control and adjustability. The standard adaptive air suspension set-up in the S7 Sportback features S specific tuning, while RS 7 Sportback models feature RS adaptive air suspension, but can be equipped at extra cost with conventionally sprung RS sports suspension plus incorporating the Dynamic Ride Control (DRC) damping system. Both versions naturally benefit from quattro all-wheel-drive, and both also feature the sport differential as standard.

The New Technology That Will Power the Family Car of 2020

THE family cars of the next decade will be some of the most economical mainstream cars ever built, thanks to a raft of cutting-edge technologies which are already being worked on, according to a new report by Autocar.

The world's oldest and most respected motoring title has revealed the top five new technologies that will propel the average family car to achieve CO2 output figures of well under 90g/km and fuel efficiency levels of more than 300mpg. The average family car achieved just 132g/km of CO2 in 2012 and is expected to manage 130g/km by next year.

The European Union has set stringent regulations that require all car makers to meet a rigorous set of average CO2 emissions standards across their entire fleet of vehicles. These come into force in 2020.

Hosted in full here, the report illustrates how flywheels, electric turbochargers and intelligent aerodynamics will shape the way the mid-market saloons and hatchbacks will be built with the specific aim of meeting those standards.

Autocar editor-in-chief Chas Hallett said: "The CO2 targets laid down by the European Union are set to change the face of Europe's car industry forever. Hitting the targets will be expensive and difficult for nearly all of Europe's car makers and the fact that early work is already under way on cars that are still at least five years from the showroom illustrates how challenging it is."

Autocar's top five new fuel-saving technologies:

Flywheels: A British-designed flywheel system, which is used to drive the rear wheels of a front-wheel-drive car, is currently in testing. It's thought flywheels could become far more familiar on mainstream cars in the next decade because they can store waste energy and then release it, much like an electric motor and battery. Flywheel systems are also about a quarter of the cost of a hybrid set-up, far less complex and much lighter.

Variable Compression Ratio Engines: Earlier this year, it was announced that manufacturers were developing engines with variable compression ratios. Although details of how this will be executed were not revealed, the principle has long been an important goal for engine designers. Being able to vary an engine's compression ratio depending on the demands being placed on it will lead to significant advances in efficiency.

Coasting: Coasting technology is something that is certain to be used on future models and will most likely be rolled out in three stages. The first stage, coasting at speed, is already a feature on some manufacturer models fitted with dual-clutch automatic gearboxes. The next version is expected to function when a car is travelling below 4mph. The ultimate version will allow transmission decoupling and engine shut-down when cruising at speed, travelling downhill or approaching traffic lights that are about to turn red.

Electric Turbochargers: Manufacturers have already begun to preview their own versions of electric turbocharging. One such model from Audi uses a powerful fan in the engine's induction system. This fan blows air through the turbo when the engine is decelerating in order to spin the turbo fan up to speed so that full boost is available as soon as the driver gets back on the accelerator. Such a system is especially useful for smaller-capacity downsized engines, which generate little exhaust gas energy, especially at low speed.

Enclosed Wheel Wells: Large steps forward in aerodynamics are difficult to achieve with mid-sized family cars. However, it is believed that wheel wells might yield big reductions in drag. Some manufacturers are already directing air across the face of the front wheels to achieve this. The next natural step is to enclose the wheel housing so airflow doesn't get trapped as it travels under the car. This would mean fitting an undertray that extends beneath the front wishbones. This flexible 'skirt', which could be attached to the wheel arch liners and the lower wishbones, creates a seal that moves with the suspension.

East Devon Cricket round-up

Sidmouth crowned champions again
Trott keeps Saints' promotion hopes alive

DESPITE an 85-run defeat at coastal neighbours Exmouth, SIDMOUTH secured enough points to clinch their fifth Francis Clark Devon Cricket League title in the last seven seasons.

An amazing spell from Dan Babula (8 for 62) restricted the hosts to 212 for 9 and in the process banked the required points to be confirmed as champions.

This proved to be more than enough as Will Murray's side were shot out for 127 – but this counted for little as the celebrations began!

Meanwhile, Chris Aplin's 4 for 17 helped SEATON 2NDS beat Countess Wear by three wickets to secure the Division D (E) title.

sailing axe yacht club

Busy week for Axe Yacht Club cadets

A SPECIAL week of activities for the cadets (ages 7-17 years) of the Axe Yacht Club started on Sunday, August 3rd.

The sea was too rough for sailing in Seaton Bay so the cadets moved to the River Axe where 25 cadets in 19 dinghies coped well despite strong winds and relatively low tides and thoroughly enjoyed themselves, coming ashore to a BBQ.

Monday dawned with calm seas, light winds and warm sunshine giving ideal conditions for nine sailing cruisers and 4 fishing boats to take out the cadets and many of their parents for a "big boat" experience.

They were given instruction on the safety procedures and equipment, helming and crewing experience, how to use the radio and to start and stop the engine and the importance of the tides.

Those that went out on the fishing boats hauled in mackerel galore which resulted in a BBQ outside the club house.

The weather reverted again on the Tuesday, with rough seas and strong winds, but sailing could still go ahead on the River Axe and in the harbour.

Three Lyme Regis Sea School instructors went through land drills and theory instruction with the cadets while the parents got completely drenched preparing the dinghies for river sailing.

The cadets in the Topper and Oppis dinghies sailed well on the river above the bridge and the double-handed dinghies performed magnificently with impressive tacks while sailing in the harbour.

There was quite a swell at sea on the Wednesday but the Toppers and double handed dinghies all managed to launch with the help of the beach team of parents and other helpers.

A race to Seaton Hole and back before lunch with a pursuit race afterwards were all very successful.

Meanwhile, the Oppi fleet had fun in the harbour playing games such as dinghy football.

The Lyme Regis instructors were back on the Thursday in calm conditions and light winds which allowed everyone to launch off the beach.

The cadets gained confidence throughout the day and as the wind increased, they demonstrated some impressive skills.

Friday was the day for raft races, canoe sliding and other water-based games. Everybody got wet but the biggest cheer was when a canoe full of parents slid down the bank and sank in the middle of the harbour!

The week concluded with a river race with the Axe One Design fleet in which the cadets sailed extremely well.

The cadet section of the club has developed amazingly well during the good weather this summer thanks to strong leadership by Amanda Parker and her team coupled with good support from the parents.

Anyone interested in joining this very active and friendly club which has wonderful facilities should contact the Membership Secretary, Nick Jolly, on 01297 35500 or e-mail: nick.jolly@kimp-tonconsultants.co.uk

Seagers to fly Devon flag in Spain

Axe Cliff with Helen Kenworthy LAST Wednesday the Ladies played The Scratch and Handicap Cups.

Despite the occasionally wet conditions, The Scratch cup was won by Helen Kenworthy with Pauline Wills finishing first in the Handicap.

Honiton with Andy Wagner TUESDAY MIXED

THE 36 members participating in this week's Mixed Competition - enjoyed spells of sun but also had to dodge heavy showers.

The format was Team Stableford with the two best scores to count. With a run-away score of 96pts the winning team were; Lesley Farley, Phil Wall, Catherine and Charlie Doherty.

In 2nd place with 88 were Ann Desmoulins, Bob Underwood, Jan and John Dickinson and in 3rd were Ann Trayling, Cyril Dann, Sally and Tom Chapman with 87.

Earlier in the year golf clubs from Cornwall, Devon, Somerset and Dorset were invited to hold a qualifying round for the Brittany Ferries Mixed Pairs Challenge 2014.

Each club's top scoring pair then played in the Regional Final at Honiton Golf Club on August 11th with a day of full hospitality.

Fourteen teams battled through the elements for a position to represent their county.

Jackie and Allan Seager who had qualified to represent Honiton scored 38pts in a Green-somes Stableford and won the competition and will now be carrying the flag for Devon next month with an all expenses paid trip to Northern Spain to play in the finals.

The winning pair with the best score will become Brittany Ferries Mixed Pairs Champions 2014.

During the round Jackie Seager had a hope-in-one on the 2nd hole.

Needless to say the hospitality did not extend to the bar bill for the celebrations for Jackie's shot - rather an expensive day for husband Allan!

Congratulations to Jackie and Allan and members wish them Good Luck in the final.

LADIES SECTION

In this week's Flag Competition each player was instructed to play only as far as her handicap allotment would allow e.g. a handicap of 25 could play 73 (par) + 25 shots only - ie. 98 total.

When all shots were used up she would place her flag, and that position would mark her overall place in the competition.

It was a tough challenge and only six ladies managed to reach the 18th green before putting down their flags, but Henrietta Bradshaw and Linda McLaughlin both managed to sink their putts on the 18th hole with their final shot to share 1st place.

Liz Wood was 3rd, Ann

◆ WELL DONE: Jackie and Allan Seager receive their prize.

Desmoulins 4th, Chris Pearce 5th and Olwen Eaton 6th.

There's no place like home for Harper

KEVIN Harper made it a happy homecoming by recording his first outright win of the season at Honiton where he first learned to play.

In a pro-am sponsored by Ian Crook Wealth Management that marked Adrian Cave's 25th anniversary as club professional, Harper, now representing Sidmouth after spells at East Devon and Exeter, made four birdies at the eighth, ninth, 14th and 15th for a four-under-par return of 64.

This brought a one-stroke advantage over Richard O'Hanlon (St Kew) and Lee Thompson (Dudsbury).

Harper (32) was an outstanding Devon amateur who won the Eupro Tour order of merit in 2006 and played in The Open at Carnoustie the following year.

Christian Vine (Woodbury Park) led the RJ Hill Haulage team of; Paul Hill, Cliff Nightingale and Jackie Seagar to team success in 13-under-par 123.

Austin, Simon Martin, Barry

Dunn and Roy Bumstead were a shot behind with Harper's Acanthus Press trio of Mark Tierney, Roger Trivett and Jim Hargreaves in third on 126.

Sue secures second spot

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter

IN perfect weather Sue Venn ran the 'ROUND THE ROCK' 10K AT PORTLAND which featured an uphill start followed by a long downhill, finally there was a long gradual climb back to the finish.

Sue was very pleased with her time of 57:39, but unfortunately her legs went just as she turned into the finish and lost 1st place for V60 to a lady from the Dorset Doodlers.

On Sunday morning Luke Reed took on the WEYMOUTH CLASSIC TRIATHLON.

Another early start, 7am this time! He had a very good race in testing conditions finishing 12th overall out of 150 finishers.

Luke's distances and splits were: 1500m sea swim - 24:29, 40k undulating bike - 1:14:27, 10k Run - 40:49.

This gave him an overall time of 2:21:18 (including transitions), an excellent effort.

football the new season

Local footballers gearing up for the opening whistle

THE Devon & Exeter Football League gets under way at the weekend with an almost a full programme but nowhere will there be more excitement than at BOW AAC writes Collin Goodwin.

The mid-Devon village team have finally been allowed to move up to Premier status, having been denied by a limitation of their facilities, but there is now massive excitement within the club especially as their opening game is against TIVERTON TOWN RES. SIDBURY UNITED are also playing Premier football for the first time and they too can hardly wait for the season to start.

Sidbury open their account with the visit of WILLAND ROVERS RES and expect both new clubs to do well in a Premier division which looks totally wide open.

One controversial move has been the promotion of Division Seven champions Henrys Cronies up four steps to Division 3.

This is an unprecedented move from the League but one they felt justified in doing. Time will tell if it was a wise decision.

A number of new teams have entered the League, the most interesting being LYME REGIS from Dorset and Somerset's ILMINSTER TOWN RESERVES who were both previously in the Perry Street & District League. MORE-

TONHAMPTON from the South Devon League have brought their 2nd team back after an absence of over 50 years, and other new teams include CENTRAL FC and WINCHESTER from Exeter, and TIVVY PARK RANGERS who will play their home games at Ashill.

Meanwhile, WHIPTON & PINHOE have made a welcome return and there are extra teams entered from CULM UNITED, FENITON, OTTERTON ST MARY, ST MARTINS and WELLINGTON TOWN.

At the time of writing there have been no withdrawals from the League.

JIM PEARCY

DEVON County FA secretary Paul Morrison made an amazing tribute in memory of the late Jim Percy at a memorial service in Ottery St Mary Parish church recently.

Much of the tribute can be reviewed on the Devon FA website but in the meantime I have done some research on Jim's involvement with the DEVON & EXETER FOOTBALL LEAGUE which I feel should also be recorded.

Jim Percy of course was also the County FA press officer and it would be a major surprise if anyone ever equals or comes near Jim's incredible written football records and his travels to far parts. However, in addition to what Paul was able to communicate, it would be inappropriate not to mention Jim's soccer career locally.

He began as a player at the age of 13 just after the second world war with ESCOT ROVERS when the village side were in the Ottery & District League.

The secretary of Escot at the time was the late Jack Selway who had been a founder member of the Ottery League and also Escot Rovers when they formed a village team just after the first world war.

I believe Escot were in the Ottery League for most years but prior to the 2nd world war they spent one season in the EAST DEVON & VIC-TORY LEAGUE which arguably is their first venture into our League. The Ottery League was dissolved in the mid 1960s and Escot then entered the EXETER & DISTRICT LEAGUE their first season being in 1965.

Jim was a registered player with the league until he broke his leg and had to stop playing.

Escot Rovers continued as members when the league became the DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE in 1972 until they disbanded in 1981 a membership of 16 years.

For the last five seasons 1976/77-1980/81 Jim took over as secretary of Escot from Jack Selway who had served the village team for 55 years.

In the last couple of these seasons Jim also played the odd match and was very proud to Several 73.

On Monday, August 11th nine Ladies went to CREWKERNE BC to play a three-rink friendly.

Scores; Gill Campbell, Doris Emery, Sue Dando 12 A Loose 24, P Stringer, Eileen Rolph, Ann Dredge 28 M Spurway 8, Phylis Baldwin, Jeanette Porter, Ann Sebright 18 An Other 10, final score Crewkerne 42 Chardstock 68.

Finally, last Tuesday our visitors were HONITON BC to play a mixed friendly.

Scores; B Andrews, Ann Dredge, W Kerr, T Dredge 18 D Hillman 7, B Hill, L Lidle, Eileen Rolph, K Wakelin 12 K Clarke 12, A Callagan, E Van Der Meulin, Sheila Jeffery, A Day 18 S Eveleigh 8, B Howard, P Compton, G Bodily, N Denslow 23 A Hillary 3.

Three ends after tea a heavy cloudburst made the green very slippery so the captains decided to abandon the match.

HONITON with Tony Broughton

THE Two Counties squad continue their good winning run beating Tiverton Borough at Honiton by three rinks to one with a 99-61 score line.

Tiverton turned up one player down so one rink was Triples.

The scorelines; Fred Cowey, Rita Barwick and Shirley Hiscocks 25-20. Di Hawkins, Ann Hillyear, Carol Smith and Malcolm Seaborne 18-20.

Peter Baker, Berry Maynard, Heather Chambers and Ken Clarke 25-12 and Top Rink Daphne Courtney, Brenda Harris, Dennis Hillyear and Mike Smith 31-9.

In friendly matches the game against Chardstock only 12 ends were played before rain stopped play and the match at Crewkerne called off after Honiton arrived because the green was waterlogged.

Honiton had a good 83-53 home win against Axminster. Stuart Crawford's rink lost 14-19.

Scott Eveleigh's rink won 20-14. Bill Nichol's rink won 18-10 but Top Rink was Ken Morfe, Ted Cox and Tracy Crawford 30-10.

score a winning goal in an important game of which he has a record from an article I wrote, and one we often enjoyed sharing.

Jim was still very much involved with the local Ottery St Mary based cups competitions (Morrison Bell, Grandisson and Goleworthy), and was always at the finals to either present trophies or say a few appropriate words.

Jim Percy's contribution to local grass roots football has been massive.

Over 60s news

The "A" Team won only one rink against Ottery St Mary B away getting two points.

The B team did better with six from eight points at home to Dunkeswell and the C team got the full eight points away to Hem-yock.

The C and B teams will remain in their respective Divisions however, with two games left to play, the "A" Team could still slip into the relegation zone.

There was bad news from Leamington where Sue Evans had to withdraw from the National Two Wood Championship through illness - this very disappointing after all the work necessary to get there.

Carole Binmore did well in her first match in the same competition but was extremely unlucky to lose to the Nottinghamshire contestant in the next game.

In front with one end to play, Carole played the Jack too short, very uncharacteristic for her.

It was returned and her opponent gained the advantage casting the Jack to her favoured length winning the point and levelling the match. Carole then lost the extra end.

♦ As a point of interest I was asked by a spectator a week later, if it was correct for the Marker, a qualified Umpire, to toss the coin and the challenger call.

The answer is no, this is in fact an infringement of the Laws of the Sport, but it is what happened in this instant.

Carole did not object but what the Umpires do not seem to understand is that some players do know the Laws and if one goes into an important situation knowing full well a Law has been broken this surely causes them a little anxiety.

In bowls the opponents must toss for the Jack, this has always been the Law and one that became compulsory some 20 years ago.

But many the Qualified Umpires chose to ignore or not uphold this prompted my withdrawal from the Umpires Association at the end of 2011.

Late double blunts Ax

AXMINSTER Town's wait for a first South West Peninsula League Division One (east) point of the season continues after a 3-1 defeat at newly promoted St Martins at their Minster Park home on Saturday.

The Tigers fell behind before Sam Dibling, back at his old club after four seasons and more than a 120 goals for Millway Rise in the Perry Street League, leveled things up in the 80th minute.

But the hosts benefitted from some defensive errors to strike twice late-on to secure their first ever win in the League.

Dibling is only available for Ax until next month when he moves off to the Southampton area with his family to be close to his son Tyler who begins his time with the Saints academy.

TIGERS LINE-UP: Scott Wells-Burr, Dan Beer, Leigh Beer, Mike Knight, Gary Macauley, Ollie Highet, Sam Dibling, Dan Galloway (capt), Ben Turner, Alex Wheatley, Pete Knox.

By Howard Larcombe
howard@pemedi.co.uk

Subs; Brad-Lee Miller, Dan Turner, Richard Challis.

Ax now face three more away games in six days beginning with Alphington at The Chronicles ground tomorrow (Wednesday).

This is followed by Budleigh Salterton at Greenway Lane on Saturday and the local derby at Manstone Lane against Sidmouth Town next Tuesday (August 26th).

◆ AXMINSTER Town Football Club have begun the search for a new Reserve team manager following confirmation that John Broom has stood down due to work commitments.

A statement on the club's website read: "We are about to embark on an exciting period in the clubs history with the new facilities almost completed."

"The club are looking for a proactive manager that can work within the current management team and develop our current crop of players.

"The club would like to thank John for all his hard work and we look forward to seeing him at the new clubhouse in the future."

"Adam Cowling has taken temporary charge of the reserves and we are grateful that he has stepped forward to help us out."

"If you would like to discuss the position then contact Matt Hewer either by telephone 07817 711691 or email matthewer@tiscali.co.uk."

THE ULTIMATE GARDEN FENCE

- ◆ Maintenance Free
- ◆ Guaranteed for 25 years

AT LAST! The holy grail of fencing transforming gardens across the UK!

It may do "exactly what it says on the tin" but let's face it, treating a timber fence can never be called fun! In fact, owning a timber fence isn't much fun either with costly, time consuming maintenance and repairs almost every year.

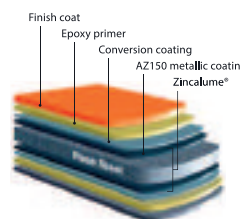

Finally, the alternative to timber fencing, that goes up and stays up....

Colourfence fencing solutions are made from innovative Colorbond steel, virtually maintenance free with an occasional wash down with water to keep it looking as good as new – so you never need to pick up that paintbrush again! We guarantee your fence will remain unspoiled for at least 25 years, even against gusts of 130mph!

Available in a variety of heights and colours with or without trellis, our skilled installation team will make short work of transforming your garden.

The best news is the pricing is just as attractive, starting costs are in line with comparable traditional systems but offer the ongoing peace of mind you're your investment will continue to save time and money year after year.

For those of us who want a maintenance free garden, Colourfence promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.
